TRAINING ACTIVITIES IN SURABAJA -- Djakarta, Yudhagama, Vol II, No 14, Nov 51

President Sukarno has recently inaugurated the IAL (Institut Angkatan Laut, Naval Institute) at Morokrembangan, Surabaja. The IAL now has 30 officer candidates, but 201 men will receive officer training during the coming year. Of this number, 175 will be trained in Indonesia and 26 in the Netherlands. Up to the present, only 16 IAL students have been sent for training to the Royal Naval Institute at Den Helder, the Netherlands. The 30 trainees now in the IAL, are taking a 2-year course. The first 3 months of their training will be primarily devoted to basic military training, including seamanship, specialist training, and administration.

The IAL is commanded by Major Hardiwinarso, with Major Hunnols as First Officer and Captain Maris as Training Officer. The instructors include six officers of the Royal Netherlands Naval Mission and four noncommissioned officers of the Royal Netherlands Marines.

In addition to the IAL, there is a training school for enlisted ratings and noncommissioned officers of the ALRI (Indonesian Navy) in Surabaja. The 300 men now enrolled will be assigned to deck or engine room duties after completion of the 3-month course.

Djakarta, Yudhagama, Vol II, No 17, Feb 52

An 11-month course for naval officers has been opened by the Surabaja Naval District Command of ALRI. The purpose of the course is to prepare naval officers to assume command functions in ALRI. The first course is being taken by 12 officers, and the second will be taken by 22.
